Mr. J's JOURNAL

Recently I was given a quote that captured my attention.

"Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and looks like work."

Thomas Edison

We are so fortunate at Trapp that we have a community of people who are ready to put on their overalls and get to work. Most of you manage very hectic schedules and still make time to support your children and their education. You are to be commended because your contributions of time, talent and treasure go beyond just helping your own child; your work for our school helps many children.

Opportunities abound at Trapp- opportunities to work and opportunities for our children to learn. This happens because so many of you are willing to go that "extra mile" to attend another meeting or work another fundraiser.

THANK YOU!

Your contribution is different than mine, and our contributions are different than that of teachers and staff. Let's pray for each other that we would not "become weary in well doing" We don't know what opportunity will be the very thing to inspire a child, pointing them in a direction that will change the world for good.

The franticness of the start of school sometimes brings out criticism and negativity, which drains the joy and energy out of everyone. Use your energy to "put on your overalls" so that this will be a year where opportunities flourish and dreams are realized.

Trapp students deserve the best we can give them!

☺ COMING TO SCHOOL IS FUN! ☺

Every day a child is at school, learning takes place!

We want to encourage all students that it is important to be at school unless they are sick.

We will be celebrating good attendance every week in September to get our students excited and encouraged to be at school everyday.

Each day, the classroom with the highest percentage of students in attendance will receive a classroom attendance certificate! The homeroom with the most certificates at the end of the week will receive a Homeroom Reward on Friday afternoon.

Students who have perfect and punctual attendance for the entire week will be entered to win a free pass to any Clark County sporting event this year!
